St. Paul's United Church Celebrate 55th Anniversary

St. Paul's United Church celebrated its 55th anniversary last Sunday when the Rev. Ted Kolber of High Prairie was present to preach both the evening and morning service.

Rev. Kolber is the first Coleman boy to go into the United Church ministry.

The congregation of the church was organized in 1904, and construction of the church began in 1906.

The junior choir were present at both services and were accompanied by the senior choir at the evening service.

A friendly hour was held after the evening service when pianist for the junior choir, Jerry Lonsbury was presented with a gift for services rendered.

The cup, won by the choir at the Crows Nest Pass Musical Festival this spring, was displayed at the gathering.

The celebration wound up Monday when approximately 150 persons attended a turkey and ham anniversary supper held in the club rooms of the church.

Former Coleman Boy, Ed Rejman, Passes

Word was received in Coleman recently that Edward "Ed" Max Rejman, formerly of Coleman, and recently working at the Mineral Creek Ore Mine at Toby Creek, B.C., had died in a mine accident on May 25th.

Reports indicate that Mr. Rejman had loaded a slide dump rocker mine car holding some two tons of ore and was cleaning the tracks of some work when the car opened and he was buried beneath the ore. He died of suffocation.

Remains were forwarded to the Pass where Prayers were said in the Holy Ghost Church in Coleman at 7:00 p.m. on Friday evening of last week. Requiem High Mass was celebrated in the Holy Ghost Catholic Church in Coleman at 11 a.m. Saturday morning and interment followed in the Holy Ghost cemetery.

Rev. Father Denis Fleming officiated. Father's Funeral Service was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Rejman, 47 years of age, was born in Weida, Thuringen, Germany, on August 11, 1912. He came to Canada with his parents in May, 1914, and resided here until five years ago.

After attending school in Coleman "Ed" as he was better known by his many friends, became employed at the Coleman mines where he worked for many years. In 1942 he served with the Canadian army in the Aleutian Islands and on his return to Coleman in 1944 he returned to the mines. In 1954 he went to Creston and worked on a farm and after a two-year stay, went to Fernie in 1956 and worked in the mines there until they shut down, after which he returned to Creston. He had been employed at Toby Creek since July 2, 1958. He was of the Catholic faith.

He was predeceased by his father, Joseph, in Coleman, October, 1936, and by his mother in August, 1944, and by a brother Joseph in a Coleman mine accident in 1930.

Surviving are three brothers, — Frank of Creston, George of Fernie, and his twin brother Charlie of Coleman, and by one sister, Anne, Mrs. Joe Reynard of Kenora, Ont.

Liberals Name Mrs. C. Boyden

Mrs. C. Boyden, Pincher Creek school teacher, was nominated as Liberal candidate for the Pincher Creek - Crows Nest Constituency at a party meeting held in Lundbreck Community hall on May 29.

Other nominees was Ken McDowall of Beaver Mines.

Running in the provincial elections in this constituency besides Mrs. Boyden are William Kovach, M.L.A. of the Social Credit party, and Alex Grant of Hillcrest, who carries the Progressive Conservative banner.

Mrs. M. Zak, president, thanked the speaker and also thanked Mr. H. Allen, principal, for his support of the Association throughout the year.

"The Spencer Dunford Heart Fund"

The Coleman Lions Club have announced that they will undertake immediately a fund raising campaign to be called "The Spencer Dunford Heart Fund".

Spencer, the son of Florence and Gordon Dunford, is 15 years of age, and has had a tough break in life, in that in 1955 he was taken to Rochester for an operation on his heart. After the operation, two of the stitches broke loose and it was hoped that in time the break would heal. After two more trips to Rochester in 1956 and 1958 for examination, it was found that a further operation would be required, and plans were made to do this in August of this year.

In view of the terrific cost of these trips, the Coleman Lions Club have undertaken to spear-head a drive for funds and request the co-operation of every individual and organization in raising the necessary amount. All donations will be accepted at the local branch of The Canadian Bank of Commerce in Coleman.

Should any organization have ways and means of obtaining funds for such a worthy cause, the Dunfords and the Coleman Lions would be extremely grateful for their efforts to so obtain.

To help swell the fund, the Coleman Lions, apart from the general appeal to the public and organizations, are intending to hold a monster wheel drive at the Elks hall, Coleman, on Wednesday, June 10 at 8 p.m. Price of admission will be 50c and there will be some 10 excellent prizes and plenty of free food. Further to this the Coleman Lions will hold a tag day on Friday, June 12th at which time the public is requested to give generously.

Also on the date is a benefit bingo on Friday, July 24th at the Elks hall, Coleman, at 8 p.m. The prize list will include 10 $10 bills as well as the regular Lion bingo jackpot.

On Rodeo Day, July 4th, the Lions float, in the rodeo parade, will take the form of a collection agency. The spectators will be invited to toss their coins into the decorated float. All money so gained will be added to the fund.

Advantage will be taken to solicit funds from every source and with deep and profound humility the Coleman Lions earnestly request your utmost co-operation in this worthy cause to help a lad to live a normal life.

Although not responsible for the spontaneous gesture of so many people in donating blood at the last Blood Clinic to be used for the Dunford operation, the Coleman Lions would like to take this opportunity to thank sincerely all those whose humane feelings made them donate so generously.

Card of Thanks

I would like to thank Dr. Aiello, nurses and staff of the C.N.P. hospital, who were so kind to me during my illness, also all my friends that visited me and sent cards. Thank you one and all.

Mrs. M. E. Cornett.

$400 CAPITAL GRANT PER FARM FOR RURAL ELECTRIFICATION

PLEDGED BY CAM KIRBY

"CAM" KIRBY

"In Manitoba the entire cost of delivering electricity to farms is borne by the provincial Government. In Saskatchewan a large proportion is borne by the provincial Government. A Progressive Conservative Government in Alberta will bear 40 per cent of the capital cost of hooking up those farms that do not now have electric power. This will not be less than $400 or more than $600 per farm. Those that now have power will receive a capital rebate spread over four years, starting next year. It will be not less than $400 or more than $600 per farm."

Conservative Party.

● FARMS NOW WITHOUT ELECTRIC POWER:
A Progressive Conservative Government will pay 40 per cent of the cost of delivering power to the farm. The capital grant will be not less than $400 or more than $600 per farm.

● FARMS THAT NOW HAVE ELECTRICITY:
40 per cent of the cost of originally delivering electricity to the farm (but not less than $400 or more than $600 per farm) will be returned to the farmer, the rebate being spread over four years.

United Church Of Canada Alberta Conference

The 35th annual conference of the United Church of Canada was officially opened by the Rev. William Irving, B.A., the president of the conference in the Westminster United Church, Medicine Hat, on Wednesday evening, May 27th. — 350 delegates representing churches from as far north as Yellowknife to the Southern boundary of the province were present at the opening service.

Rev. Hugh A. McLeod, M.A., B.D., D.D., of Knox Church, Winnipeg, conducted the daily worship services giving of his wealth of experience and spiritual insight and thus enriching the daily sessions of the conference.

The Missionary and Maintenance Fund report given by Rev. E. S. Reike of Parkdale United Church, in Calgary, emphasized the new Mission Fund objectives of the church with a national goal of $8,000,000 for 1959 and $10,000,000 for 1960.

It was agreed with enthusiasm that each church be urged to increase its giving by 25 per cent to raise the necessary sums. It was reported that for the third successive year Alberta Conference had led the Dominion in the percentage increase of givings over the previous year. It was also reported that this year there were to be 12 sector areas in Alberta, involving 175 churches of four denominations co-operating in a highly organized fund raising campaign.

The committee of Information and Secretariat reported on radio, and television work, the supplies available at the literature supply depot in Alberta College, and announced several workshops and conferences among which will be a "Skillshop" in audio-visuals to be held at the Pigeon Lake youth camp next October.

Considerable time was devoted to a full discussion of the position of the Church in the field of evangelism and social service. The conference was agreed on the necessity of control and the eventual ban of nuclear weapons. The Canadian government to be urged to continue to pursue a policy of positive peace-making that recognized among other things the need for co-existence with Russia.

The problem of divorce as it currently exists was discussed and while agreeing that in no case was the Church to alter its position on marriage as being "until death do us part", it was agreed that it was desirable that divorces be granted in cases where desertion or separation had existed for a period of three years.

The conference agreed to urge upon the government of Canada a revision and amendment of the criminal code to provide that chemical tests to measure the alcohol content of the blood be admissible as evidence in court and that the amount of blood alcohol concentration which should constitute an offence under the impaired and drunk driving section of the code be explicitly set. It was suggested that 15 per cent should constitute an offence under the drunk section and over .08 per cent an offence under the impairment section.

Rev. Vernon R. W. Wishart was appointed to the post of United Church chaplain at the University of Alberta, with special responsibility for United Church students.

Rev. George Young, field secretary for Christian Education for the province reported on the extensive work in this area being conducted in the province.

Emphasis was given to the importance of the teaching mission of the church. It was reported that this training of leaders constituted a prime responsibility of the Church.

The conference agreed in principle to the need for a full-time provincial worker in the field of H.C. and Young People's activities.

On the last day of the conference delegates reaffirmed the stand taken in a previous conference that capital punishment should be abolished.

The conference closed with the ordination service on Tuesday evening, June 2nd at which time 12 students were ordained to the full time ministry of the church, and two girls were designated as deaconesses. Due to the increased number of graduates in the past two years the conference found that at its close the number of charges left vacant very few. The ordination sermon was delivered by the Rev. Donald Bruce Macdonald. Rev. D. J. C. Elson was elected president of the Alberta conference for the coming year.

National Water Safety Week June 14 - 20

This is National Water Safety Week.

Recently, it seems almost every week is dedicated to observing something and we wonder if all this spotlighting of special subjects is necessary.

Why not go back to the time when a week was nothing more than seven days of living?

No doubt some of these "weeks" we could do without. But when we consider this particular one, we realize that focusing attention on the need for caution in and on the water could mean the difference, for some of us, between days of living and a tragic death.

Therefore we are following the lead of the Canadian Red Cross Society in urging everyone to become water safety conscious, — to learn the rules of conduct at beaches and on boats and to practise them diligently at all times.

We sincerely hope that this warning, printed now, will be taken to heart by the people of our community so that later in the summer, this newspaper will not be printing items of the death by drowning of one or more of our neighbors.

Water must be treated with respect. It can be a great friend, providing us with many pleasant hours of recreation, or it can be our worst enemy.

Fatal accidents take only seconds of carelessness to happen.

Sorrow lasts a long, long time.

At least ten countries use the eagle as the symbol of supremacy.

The first oil well in the U.S. was built in Titusville, Pr., in 1859.

The Best Thing You Ever Did

Milk—Its Benefits And Dangers

Milk is an important food. The exceptional value of milk is due to the fact that it contains all the essentials of a balanced diet. It is easily digestible. At the present price, milk is one of the cheapest articles of our diet. It is a most economical source of proteins. Its high content of calcium is essential for the building of bones.

Children should drink as much as one quart of milk daily, and most adults could derive great benefits by drinking one pint of milk daily. Children should be encouraged to drink more milk and less soft drinks. Soft drinks have hardly any food value and are harmful to children's teeth. There is no doubt that people whose diet consists largely of dairy products have displayed better physical development than people that consume none or only a limited amount of milk and milk products.

While good milk does more than any other single food to obtain and maintain good health, there is no doubt that milk can be responsible for more sickness and even deaths than any other food.

The reason for this is:

1—Milk can carry a greater variety of infections than any other food.

2—Bacteria grow very well in milk at temperatures of 50° F and above.

3—It is difficult to obtain and handle milk hygienically.

4—It is readily decomposed.

5—Milk and its products are the only standard articles of diet obtained from animal source that are consumed without being cooked.

Milk products, e.g., cream, butter, ice cream, etc., are just as dangerous if not properly produced and handled.

In view of these facts, sanitarians unanimously encourage the use of pre-milk and discourage the distribution of poor milk.

Practically every outbreak of a milk-borne infection is due to raw milk of poor quality that has not been pasteurized.

Lately there has been an increase in diseases caused by poor milk. This has occurred in neighboring provinces and in some States of the United States. The number of diseases that are milk-borne are very numerous indeed. To mention the more important and common ones:

Tuberculosis, Gastro-enteritis, Scarlet Fever, Strep Throat, Typhoid, Paratyphoid, Dysentery, Brucellosis, Q-Fever, Diphtheria—and there is some evidence that the germs cause Polio and Infective Hepatitis (Jaundice) can be conveyed in milk.

It is a very short-sighted policy and false economy to buy or even accept as a gift milk or milk products that are not certified as coming from a safe source. Regulations under the Provincial Public Health Act prohibit the selling, supplying or giving away of any dairy product without first obtaining a certificate of registration from the local Board of Health.

Rat Extermination On Grand Scale Over The Years

More than 200,000 rats have been exterminated since 1951 along a 360 mile front of the Saskatchewan-Alberta border, through a year round rat control program conducted by the Alberta Department of Agriculture in co-operation with various municipal governments. The program is maintaining Alberta's status as Canada's only rat-free province.

The rat invasion from Saskatchewan began in 1950. The Pest Control Division of the Agriculture Department initiated a control program and, during 1952-53 called in professional exterminators to temporarily halt the invasion. Since 1950 the program has cost approximately $235,000 for a saving of over $4,000,000 damage to Albertans.

A specially trained corps of pest control officers regularly inspect farmsteads in suspected areas. In 1958, 637 farms of 3774 inspected, were found to be infested. The control program exterminated all but 32 colonies which were subsequently wiped out in a follow-up winter campaign.

The area of infestation occurs along a 20-mile wide strip stretching from Medicine Hat in the south to Cold Lake in the north.

The westward thrust of the rat movement is felt most keenly at such points as Grande Centre, Onion Lake, Lloydminster, Provost, Assiniboia, Empress and Schuler.

Two poisons, Warfarin and Pival are distributed by the government free of charge to farmers, municipalities and urban centres. Pest control officers employed by the Department of Agriculture direct the control program. Over 20,000 lbs. of dry-mix and 10,000 quarts of water soluble bait were used to kill an estimated 58,000 rats last year.

The rat is commonly confused with the muskrat although the two animals differ in a number of respects. A rat is usually brown in color, about 16 inches in total length including seven-inch rounded scaly tail, and weighs about 11 or 12 ounces. The muskrat is much larger with a slightly flattened tail. It also has feathered or "webbed" feet which a rat does not have.

Four Lane Highway To Be Continued

Plans and contracts are well under way for the largest highway construction program in the history of the province of Alberta with a vote of $32,500,000 for main highway construction plus $3,000,000 to complete the Trans-Canada Highway and $4,000,000 to commence the reconstruction of the Mackenzie Highway. Highways Minister, Gordon E. Taylor, announced today.

Federal Government reimbursement of half of the Trans-Canada Highway vote and the Mackenzie Highway vote is expected after the completion of work. With these votes it is expected that more than 300 miles of new sub-grade will be built, that more than 300 miles of stabilized gravel course will be applied, that more than 200 miles of asphaltic surface course will be laid. In addition, more than 500 miles of graveling will be done and 200 miles of asphaltic seal coating will be completed.

In addition some 200 miles of double surface treatment, the first stage towards making the secondary highways modern highways—will be carried out. This stage construction will not only lay the dust but will also be an investment towards stronger and better highways in the future.

One of the major projects being undertaken in this year's program is the continuation of the divided four lane highway south of Niisku. The divided four lane was completed last year between Aldrie and south of Red Deer and is considered one of the most modern highways on the Continent.

The completion of the blacktopping to the base course stage on the highway between Edmonton and the British Columbia boundary will be carried out. At the end of the year Alberta will be the only province in Canada having a blacktop road from the American boundary to a point so far north. Most of this highway is now of modern construction and has become known already as the Paved Corridor to Alaska.

The divided highway will also be continued from High River south towards Nanton.

Want Lord's Day Act Observed

"An increasing number of business men want the Lord's Day Act observed," states Rev. A. S. McGrath, general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance. Numerous owners of small businesses, real estate firms, and others, view with distaste and annoyance the illegal activities of competitors who commercialize on Sundays, according to the annual report of the Alliance, just issued.

"The majority of people in business wish to keep their shops closed on Sunday," the report maintains. "They claim need of the day of rest, and acknowledge a desire for the change it provides. Yet these privileges are being endangered by unlawful activities of business rivals."

The report also indicates that the matter of cultural entertainments and activities provided on the Lord's Day "for their beneficial and elevating influence," and without a view to monetary gain, will eventually need to come under review, with consequent alteration of law. The Alliance, however, sounds a strong warning. Projects which show little interest in ennobling life, but only in making profit, should continue to be prohibited.

Significantly, the 1959 report of the Lord's Day Alliance is entitled "Sunday Weather: Unsettled."

Attitudes are in ferment, according to the report.

The Sunday that Canada has long known is under fire. Law is under attack, the report avers, with all its complex problems of Dominion responsibility and provincial preferences. Mounting pressures suggest that the matter cannot be permanently postponed, the report says.

Because of the frequency of offences against the Lord's Day Act and the ever-present effort of business toward expansion, the menace has serious significance for the whole community. That the present situation should have "the attention and co-operative effort of the laity and the concerned," is the main plea of the report.

Letter to the Editor

The following is a letter received by The Journal from Lawrence E. Kindt, M.P. for Federal Constituency of Macleod to Mayor Frank Abousafy:

House of Commons
Canada

Ottawa,
May 19, 1959

Mr. Frank Abousafy,
Coleman, Alberta.

Dear Frank:

Thank you for your letter of May 7, 1959, concerning gas export. A Bill to create the National Energy Board is now before the House of Commons and it should be enacted into law and the Board set up in the very near future.

The people of the Crow's Nest Pass should insist on a fair and equitable price for gas if they wish to have secondary industries established. The towns and Chambers of Commerce should be working on the price of gas and what the people will have to pay for gas, because my personal view is that gas export will come before the towns have their case prepared and properly presented. Then they will find it will be too late to talk on price.

I have always been in favor of exporting gas, provided the public interest is protected with respect to supply and price.

Yours very sincerely,

Lawrence E. Kindt, M.P.,
Federal Constituency of Macleod.

Of Many Things

(By Ambrose Hills)
TEENAGE PUZZLE

On the street where I live there are three very beautiful teen-age girls, and I have known them for quite a few years. The other day I agreed to take them for a drive to see a sports event. I drove. They talked. And I was puzzled.

These three beauties were short of dates! Not one had a steady boy friend. Yet wherever we went, I saw young lads, bug-eyed, glancing at us, wondering, I have no doubt, how this middle-aged codger had found himself such beauties.

What was the matter? I could not figure it out.

During the game, they cheered loudly. They knew the young players, and they pointed out their heroes to me, but when the play came close to us I never heard them shout the names.

I began. "Attoboy, Dick!" I yelled, when Sue's hero was near us. He glanced up, saw me, saw the girls. He flushed a little, but dug in and played like a demented whirlwind for the balance of the game.

When the game ended, I tried to shepherd the girls to a point where they could applaud their winning heroes in person as they came off the ice. But no, sir. These self-sufficient, sophisticated young gals were as shy as any story-book country maiden (real country maidens aren't as shy as writers would have us believe.)

We had a soft drink and chips at a nearby restaurant after the game. Pretty soon a few of the young lads drifted in. My girls acted as if they were completely disinterested. They took on that glassy-eyed, don't-give-a-darn expression.

No wonder they don't have dates. They scare the boys away.

So, driving home, I delivered a lecture to these neighborhood beauties. "When you want something in this world," said I, "you are wise to let the world know about it. And that includes boy friends. You acted as if you thought those lads had leprosy, while an hour before you were telling me they were dreamboats. Get wise. There's no law against a come-on smile, you know."

I think it registered. I know it did. Because the next day, one of the girls phoned one of the boys and congratulated him on their win. And the boys were having a party that night at one of their homes to celebrate, so the girls got invited, and they had a wonderful time.

Caution Necessary When Replacing Burned Fuses

While the average homeowner is quite capable of changing a burned-out light bulb or replacing of a blown fuse, any changes or repairs to the electrical system of a house should be entrusted only to a qualified electrician.

This is particularly important if additional outlets are to be installed as each electrical circuit in the house is rated to carry only a limited power load.

If extra outlets are to be provided it may be necessary to alter the circuits or install a fuse box that will accommodate more circuits. In certain cases, lead-in wires may have to be replaced with wires of a heavier gauge.

Proper precautions should be taken when work of any type is to be carried out on the electrical system.

For instance, the main switch should always be thrown off before replacing a burned out fuse as accidental contact with any live part of the circuit could result in a severe electrical shock or even prove fatal.

The use of fuses of the proper rating is essential for over-rated fuses will cause the wires in the circuit to heat when too many appliances, or appliances which use a large amount of electricity are connected. When electrical wires get over-heated a real fire danger is created. This is especially hazardous when the wires are enclosed in walls and ceilings constructed of lumber or other inflammable material. Fires from this cause rank high in the number of Canadian homes damaged or destroyed by fire each year.

A 15-amp fuse is sufficient for most lighting circuits, but higher rated fuses may be used for those circuits serving heavy appliances, provided adequate wiring has been installed. Under no circumstances should a coin or other piece of metal be substituted for a fuse.

If the lights dim when an appliance such as a refrigerator starts it is an indication that the circuit is overloaded. Another symptom is when an electric iron or toaster heats slowly or a motor seems to have trouble starting. Do not hesitate to call a qualified electrician if you are not sure where the trouble is. His experience is your protection.

Camp Grounds And Picnic Areas

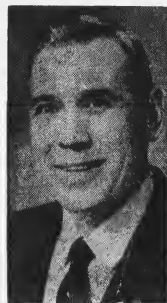

Starting in January, 1958, the federal government has contributed money earmarked for the construction of camp sites and picnic areas in Canada.

The money must be matched 50-50 by the provinces, and any projects undertaken are also administered by the provinces. In the budget of 1958-59, the appropriation was $2.5 million, set aside for the specific purpose of helping the provinces with the building of camp sites and picnic areas.

In Alberta, the federal government will have contributed approximately 250,000 for this purpose during the period November 1, 1958, to May 31, 1959. With the Alberta government putting up a similar amount, this has resulted in a half million dollar program of campsites and picnic areas throughout Alberta. This is money well spent, because the tourist trade is one of Canada's largest industries.

The federal government has also appropriated $2 million for building of camp sites and picnic areas along the Trans-Canada Highway for the coming year. Out of this amount, Alberta has been allocated $127,931 on the basis of the amount of the Trans - Canada Highway mileage within the boundaries of the province of Alberta.

Bride-Elect Honored At Shower

The home of Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, 926 - 18th Ave. N.W., Calgary, was the scene of a pretty miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Eva Bennett, bride-elect.

The evening was spent playing various types of games, prizes being won by Mrs. L. Lloyd, Mrs. Mabel Lloyd, Miss Rita Cavel and Miss Polly Yacubic.

Lunch was served by the hostesses, after which Bonnie Jean McIsaac presented the honored guest with gifts from the 25 guests, in a decorated doll buggy for which Miss Bennett graciously expressed her thanks.

The bride is employed at the Al-
